Meyer Products Introduces the Super Blade Snow Plow

At the touch of a button, it automatically extends from 8' up to 10.5' or anywhere in between

CLEVELAND (June 18, 2019) – Extend your capabilities with the all new commercial-grade Meyer® Super Blade™ plow. It is bigger and stronger than any other automatically adjustable plow on the market. With the press of a button, it can expand from 8' to 10.5' and back again or anywhere in between. The wings extend as a pair, or independently, at your command.

The Super Blade is 32" high in the center of the moldboard, while the outer adjustable wings measure 36" high, giving unprecedented plowing efficiency.

For added strength and reliability, the Super Blade features a tubular pivot bar, with a heavy-duty center support, running the entire length of the critical snow impact area of the blade. And the wings are reinforced with ribs to take on the toughest plowing jobs worry-free.

Other features include:

- Industry-leading 5-year warranty
- Standard Nite Saber LED lights for better sight
- Industry-leading ground clearance means less chance of bottoming-out and allows higher stacking capability
- A pistol grip controller with self-diagnostics reduces downtime

The Super Blade's Standard Operating System has a streamlined appearance with an encased power unit and patented cable management system for reliable service. The hydraulic system also features an adjustable drop speed to handle various plowing conditions and meet operator preferences.

You can attach and detach the Super Blade in minutes with a simple 2-plug electrical attachment, and Meyer's free-standing jack stand allows you to adjust the plow's height on uneven or shifting surfaces, making on/off easy in any condition.
